COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Some of the selectmen and the town manager attended a Tax Collectors' Assessors' School in Rumford Wednesday.

Wednesday evening there was a meeting of the Planning Board.

The new International Truck is in Skowhegan having the plow mounted. It should arrive back in town any day now. We are hopeful there will not be too much need to use it this year.

The Highway Department was able to patch some holes this week. The cold weather has prevented the pile of patching material from thawing. They had a small amount stored in the garage. It is hoped we may be able to purchase enough to fix the worst places until ours becomes workable.

Local citizens have been very cooperative in accepting appointments to the various duties the selectmen have asked them to assume. It is hoped we will have the full slate for next week's publication.

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

Three men shared death upon a hill.
 But only one man died;
 The other two
 A thief and God Himself
 Made rendezvous.
 Three crosses still
 Are borne on Calvary's hill.
 Where sin still lifts them high:
 'Twas for the one sad broken man
 Who craved, die;
 Another holds the praying thief.
 Or those who, penitent as he
 Still find the Christ
 Reside them on the tree.

Ever tried to cash a check in a strange town?

Or written a check and made a deposit at the same time, and fretted about which would reach the bank first?

Or been caught short of cash on Sunday morning?

Or written a fat check on your joint account only to find your wife wrote one too, and there's only enough in the account to cover one?

Welcome to the club.

Casco Bank has a new unique plan that was designed especially for people like you. It's called Bancardchek.

Bancardchek is like a traveler's check, a certified check, a treasurer's check and a credit card all rolled into one. You can cash it anywhere, any time—and payment is guaranteed even if you overdraw.

Bancardcheks are a great help to businessmen on trips who need accurate records of expenses and who don't like to carry a lot of cash with them.

Companies use them when they send representatives on business trips, because they solve the problem of how much cash advance to give. With Bancardcheks there's no advance, yet the traveler never runs out of cash.

We offer Bancardcheks in books of $500 and up. They're brand new to Maine.

So ask us about Bancardcheks. You'll be glad you did.

SKI TIPS

STEM CHRISTIE

By Ace Manley
Director, Big Bromley Ski School

The stem christie is an advanced-intermediate turn. It is a rather difficult turn, but one which is most helpful to the advanced skier.

The skier begins in the traverse position. The uphill ski is stemmed with an accompanying down motion, in much the same way as it was in the stem turn.

With an up motion, the weight is transferred to the stemmed outside ski. In order to initiate the change in direction, the inside or downhill ski is brought up parallel with the stemmed ski and advanced to enter the christie phase.

As in the uphill christie, the outside shoulder is brought gradually back and the edges of the skis are re-set with a down motion to finish the turn in a new traverse position.

In practicing the turn, it is important to remember that the skis start turning at the exact moment that the skis are closed or brought parallel to one another. The weight is shifted to the stemmed ski, pressing the knees forward and in the direction of the turn.

After sinking down to set the ski edges at the finish of the turn, the skier rises up slightly with the weight on the new downhill ski.
